

FALL IN READINESS FOR GREATEST OF SOUTHERN FOOTBALL BATTLES

CLANS GATHER TO SEE GAME

Carolinians and Virginians Mingle to Cheer Rival Football Teams.

VICTORY PREDICTED BY BOTH

Local Interest Is Intense, and a Record-Breaking Crowd Expected at Ball Park.

Having enjoyed the spectacular work of the skyman in the morning at the late Fair Grounds, all of Richmond will journey to the ball park this afternoon to witness the annual gridiron battle between the two leading institutions of learning in North Carolina and Virginia. The game will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock, and adding to the battle of the giants, the sight of the well-worn, weathered, and Society will be out in all its might, wearing the colors of its favorite Blue and White of Carolina will be side by side with the Orange and Blue of Virginia, the whole blending into a color scheme which will attract the eyes of the artists in the assemblage.
On the north side of the park will be gathered the clans of the White and Blue, while on the south side the university of Virginia enthusiasts will be massed. Across the field will float the college songs and yells of the clendly rivals.

For three long months the men who have been striving to wear the big "V" have looked forward to this game.
Aspirations unknown to those who have never essayed to play the game of football have been endured and welcomed, all in the hope that on Thursday victory would be achieved and the glory won for alma mater.

All on Common Footing.

Students and faculty will mingle as the common cloth on this greatest of the year for the two institutions.
Every move of the mole-skinned warriors will be watched by thousands of eyes, and enthusiastic cheers will greet the man or men who lends most to the victory which one or the other of the clans will achieve.

It is because of the utter abandonment with which the college man cheers his team that the layman attends the game. There will be no hand-hurders who will be at a football contest for the first time. They will go because of what they have heard as much as to see the game. On the other hand, there will be yet other hundreds, students of the two universities at the same time, and students of bygone days, who will follow the fortunes of the teams because of a love for the old school.

Merchants have entered into the spirit of the day, and not a shop but is displaying the colors of the teams. In the window one is met with the tender of orange and blue and blue and white. The holiday spirit is in the air, and street cars, long before the game is begun, will be crowded with the enthusiasm bound for the field of turnage.

Vehicles at a Premium.
The automobiles are already at a premium.
Old automobiles cannot be had at any price. There seems to be a general wakening of the football spirit, and it is not a school of the other hand.
Even those who do not know football have reached the conclusion that both teams will fight the battle of their lives. And this is little wonder. Victory will mean much, and defeat will mean the loss of the small and will have the solace of their fends.

To-night the men break training.
After a long hiatus, they will be permitted to gorge themselves to their heart's content, and few will fail to avail themselves of the opportunity.
The rigor of the training table leads then to the appetite, especially the appetite of healthy youngsters.

Follow the crowd to the ball park and you will see a game of football to be remembered. Both teams are confident, and the prospects of both are good, and yet one team will win, which is a fact, which is very subtle. Under these conditions Richmond should witness a day of at fought football contest of years.

CHRONIC ULCERS INDICATE BAD BLOOD

Where the blood is pure any wound of laceration of the flesh heals "by intention." This is true because nature has provided a constituent to be a circulation known as Plasma, which joins and holds the place together until the fibres and tissues can permanently knit and interweave.
Whenever the ulcer becomes chronic it is because this healing quality of the blood has been impaired by some impurity in the circulation, and the place remains open, infecting all surrounding flesh, until the character of the circulation is changed. No sore can heal where the blood is bad; because the morbid impurities on which thrives are constantly deposited to it by the burdened circulation.
Cause the blood and the sore will of its own accord, because then very source and foundation will be destroyed. S. S. S. cures chronic ulcers of every kind for the one great reason that it thoroughly cleans the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of infections or morbid matter, enriches the corpuscles, and assists nature in the formation of the necessary plasmic qualities of this vital fluid. No matter from what source the impurities of the blood came, S. S. S. will remove them.

IN CAROLINA'S CAMP

Williamsburg is still taking care of the University of North Carolina football team. The Tarheels will not arrive in Richmond until 11 o'clock.
It is best to keep his men away from their two warm friends until after the game. The team will arrive at 11 o'clock this morning over the Chesapeake and Ohio, and will go immediately to the Jefferson to receive the last words of instruction and encouragement from the coaches before the contest this afternoon at Broad Street Park.

From the statements made by both Coach Brides and Captain Thompson, it can be gathered that the Carolinians expect victory just as surely as do their rivals of Virginia. Since the game against South Carolina, when the Chapel Hill team won practice has been going on constantly. Not a single man on the team was injured in this game. Secret signal practice was held yesterday at Williamsburg, and was more satisfactory. Like Virginia, the Carolina team is said to be in far better condition than at any time during the season.

Additional information is to the effect that the eleven has developed wonderfully in team work, which was so woefully lacking earlier in the season. In a word, Carolina believes that she will trail the Virginia colors in the dust.

Porter Telled Upon.
"Plunging" Porter will be the man relied upon to carry the ball on line plays. His ability is well known. He is a strong offensive player, and as defensive quarter is hard to get by.
Ruffin and Calmes will be sent around the ends, and with the interference which Brides has worked up, are expected to make appreciable gains. It has not been definitely decided who will do the kicking.

All of Chapel Hill will be at the game, and a large part of North Carolina will come along. It is more than hope which is bestirring the breasts of the warriors from the Old North State. It is more nearly a certainty.
The defeats of the season have spurred the men on to unusual endeavor, and it is thought that all of the inglorious past will be wiped out this afternoon.

Following the lead of Virginia, Brides called on some of the stars of previous years to come to his assistance, and they did with a will.
Trenchard and Stewart, former captain of the Blue and White, have been instructing the men for some days.
Summing it all up, Carolina declares she will win, and can't figure how the game can be lost.

TAU SIGMA PLAY GRACE STREET TEAM

The Grace Street basketball team met the Tau Sigma for a return game this morning. A good game is promised and a large attendance is expected.
The game will be called promptly at 11 o'clock. Last Tuesday the Tau Sigma won a great victory over the Grace Streets, defeating them 17 to 6.
The line-up of the teams will be as follows:

Statement by Coach Crawford, of the University of Virginia, Made Over Long Distance Telephone From Ashland.

"The men have been working hard and are now in better condition than they have been at any time during the present season. The game with Carolina will undoubtedly be our best game of the season."

Statement Made by Captain Geyer, of the University of Virginia, Made Over Long Distance Telephone From Ashland.

"The men are in good condition, and we hope to win. This is the most I can say now. It will be a good game."

Statement of Captain Thompson, of North Carolina, Made Over Long Distance Telephone From Williamsburg.

"The boys have responded man-fully to the call, and show the effects of the practice of the last few days. I don't want to make any predictions, but I can say that we will win if it is in us to do so. If we should lose it will not be because the men won't try. There will be no letup from the moment play is begun until it is all over.
Our previous defeats have but strengthened our determination to win this game. I have strong hopes of victory."

Statement Made by Coach Brides, of North Carolina, Over Long Distance Telephone From Williamsburg.

"The team is in excellent condition. Each man is on edge and ready to give a good account of himself.
The progress of the team has been most satisfactory, and the assistance of the alumni coaches, who have been on the ground helping me in my work, has been of untold value. Unless something unforeseen happens I think we will win.
The team is fast, and is an entirely different organization from that seen in Richmond at the V. P. I. game.
Things look mighty bright for a Carolina victory."

IN VIRGINIA'S CAMP

Confidence is the most striking characteristic of the University of Virginia camp. The word "lose" is unknown and never heard. The team and its supporters are not taking the possibility of defeat into account. The one and only question is, "How big a score will we pile up?"

Under the care of Coach Crawford the squad is now at Ashland, and will not arrive in Richmond until shortly before the game. After getting into the city the men will be whisked away to the Jefferson Hotel, where they will be properly rubbed and groomed for the contest, which will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

At this writing, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, it seems positive that "Big" Cecil will be at left tackle, taking Varner's place. The addition of Cecil to the squad and the shifting of Goodhue to full has made the supporters of the Orange and Blue more positive. If possible, than ever before of victory.

Driver, Todd and "Honey" as the little quarter is called, have recovered from any injury received earlier in the season and will be on hand to give a good account of themselves. Optimism prevails in every quarter, and while neither Coach Crawford nor Captain Geyer would make any positive statement, it was apparent from their manner that they more than anticipate winning.

Former Stars Aid Crawford.
Yancey and Cloth, former stars on Lambeth Field, have been at the university for several days, and have helped Crawford. The men have been given an unusual amount of telling instructions, and seemingly have profited thereby.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., November 23.—With the V. P. I. eleven spending the night before the battle at Old Point and the A. & M. team of Elizabeth City, N. C., football talk is not as rife in Norfolk to-night as it was a year ago. Both teams will arrive Thursday morning, and about the same time several special trains with the two corps of cadets, each accompanied by its band and rooters, will pour into the city.

As yet not enough betting has been done to give either team the position of favorite, but the indications point to even money, with the possibility of the Carolina team being a slight favorite when the crowds arrive to-morrow.

Special trains and excursions are expected to bring at least 5,000 enthusiasts to the game.

The two teams are reported to be in excellent condition for the game that will practically decide the championship of the Middle Atlantic States.
